Thank you for aiding our work – informing, influencing and investing

An estimated 1 in 50 people in Britain wake every day with myalgic encephalomyelitis/chronic fatigue syndrome (ME/CFS), a condition involving debilitating malaise, pain and neurological symptoms.

Across the world, millions are affected, yet research into this illness is still very sparse. We desperately need ME/CFS to be researched and treated consistently, but we can only do this with help from people like you.
